

CASE STUDY RESIDENTIAL

DURAL

PROJECT DETAILS

LOCATION	Bridgend, South Wales
SECTOR	Residential
CONTRACTOR	CJH Tiling Services
PRODUCTS	Powder coated Trims colour matched to the tiles
OBJECTIVES	To create a smooth and seamless tiled finish

THE CHALLENGE

The client's bathroom project involved a pattern of wall tiles to create a herringbone effect.

It was important for the overall aesthetic that the necessary trims matched the tile in order to create a smooth and seamless finish. Mr Hancock contacted Dural and enquired about their colour matching service having seen recommendations to contract Dural from the Facebook Tilers Community,

THE SOLUTION

Dural recommended that Mr Hancock use powder coated trims. Shortly after receiving a sample of the chosen tile, Dural sent back samples to proof. These matched perfectly to the tile.

THE RESULT

Mr Hancock felt that 'Communication with Dural was very good, they were approachable and friendly. I was asked to send a sample tile through to them so that they could colour match and powder coat a sample trim, the sample was returned quickly. Dural products were affordable for my client too, so it was a win win! I will definitely be working with Dural in the future and highly recommend!'

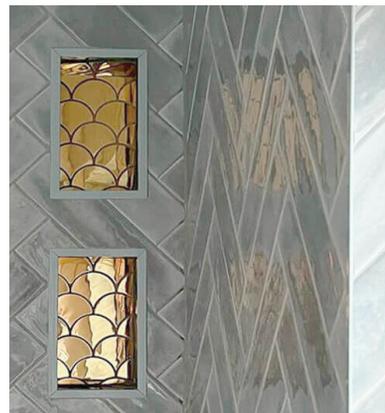

Dural offers a complete service that allows the customer to use a sample from their desired project and powder coat your trim or profile to match seamlessly. Coloured accessories are available in any RAL colour and for this project Dural matched them to the tile colour. They are often used in bathrooms because of their durability. All the powder coated finishes are hard wearing. Colour matching allows you, as the designer, to introduce a whole new dimension to your project.

Dural UK Ltd have recently worked on a project with CJH Tiling Services. Curtis Hancock of CJH Tiling, offers a wide variety of services, and works to the highest standards of construction.

Here the client chose to colour match but equally a strong, contrasting colour choice can be striking. For those wanting a minimal feel to their project, it is also possible to colour match the edging accessories to the grout colour. Here the herringbone pattern was required, white grout importantly showed the clever way the tiles were placed, creating a geometric pattern which leads your eye around the bathroom. Dural aims to provide you with a colour matched sample within 2-3 days.
